

My Resume

A quick look at my education, research, work experience, and skills.

PROFILE SUMMARY

Teacher turned Digital Education researcher — building lessons that feel like experiences.

A postgraduate student in Digital Education at Xi'an Jiaotong-Liverpool University, with research interests in gamification, AI-assisted teaching, and website design for English language learning. Two years of full-time English teaching at You Can Education, where I creatively blend murder mystery games and storytelling into New Concept English lessons for students aged 6 to 15. Undergraduate research on the Lexile Framework for graded reading, three First Prize Scholarships, and active roles in student leadership and rural-education volunteering reflect a profile built on curiosity and consistency. Fluent in Mandarin and English (TEM-8, IELTS 6.5), AI-literate with tools like ChatGPT and Trae for website design, and skilled in creative course design, word-memorization methods, and classroom assessment.
